“Again”

When we found out, I said, “I can’t believe that this is happening again.”

I thought that God had seen all of our pain, and where we had been.

Losing your sister, Emily, last year almost to the day,

Your life, your health, every day we would pray.

Your brothers were so excited to hold you, kiss you, and play with you,

And then as that day approached, who would have knew.

We are all so very sad all over again,

Our hearts have been ripped open more, and have to mend.

I loved carrying you, and envisioning who you would be,

You are a gift, and always will be to me.

As hard and as painful as it is to say to God, “Amen”,

I know that someday, we will see you and your sister, Emily, again.

To our sweet baby in Heaven, we miss you so. Emily, take good care of your sibling, as we know that you are.

We love you both, forever and ever, Daddy, Mommy, Matthew, and Ryan
